Designed in partnership with the US Government, this currency cart is a secure method for the safe storage, handling, transport and delivery of currency and coins to and from Federal Reserve Bank institutions.

The see through design allows for the visual monitoring of contents while the superior construction creates a completely enclosed “box”. The top panel is hydraulically controlled and remains in place when in the “open” position. This feature, along with the double front doors make loading and unloading contents easy and ergonomically safe for employees.
